Course Description:

This course is designed to enhance your teacher toolbox with usable ideas for infusing Universal Design for Learning and choice into your classroom. We all learn in different ways, but we can't cater to a classroom-full of differentiation for every single student all of the time. By using choice in your classroom you can break down the barriers that your students and yourself face every day and make the most out of each lesson, practice, and assessment. This course is aligned to the Massachusetts Curriculum Frameworks.
